Handwritten Demotic script on a papyrus fragment, showing approximately 20 lines of text. The script is dense and cursive, typical of the Late Period of Egypt. The fragment is rectangular and shows signs of wear and tear, with some areas of discoloration and missing material. The text is written in a single column, with some lines starting with a small vertical stroke, possibly indicating the beginning of a new line or section. The characters are well-defined but somewhat faded in places, making some parts difficult to read. The overall appearance is that of an ancient document, likely a petition or a religious text as indicated by the caption.
